A Handy Guide on Travelling To Oaxaca City

The first thing to know about Oaxaca is her pronunciation. You may wonder about the number of vowels present in this word. It is ‘waa-haa-kah’. The second important thing is that Mexico has a state named Oaxaca with a population of around 4 million people. It is the 10 largest state of Mexico. Oaxaca state's main city is Oaxaca de Juarez also known as Oaxaca city. Situated in the southern part of Mexico. We are here to guide our readers about oaxaca travel guide. It has a population of 250,000 people.

Plan at least for 4 days:
If you are going to explore this city that is the cultural, agricultural, and historical hub of the Oaxaca state. Then sparing less than 4 days can make you a bit uncomfortable. Because there is a lot to explore. Days are slow here even the coffee shops open after 11:00 AM. Go on the streets with an empty mind and with an empty stomach because there is a lot to taste and experience in this city. Spare a bag with you while wandering on the streets of Oaxaca city because you will see a lot of straw-made handicrafts there that you cannot ignore.

Our oaxaca travel guide would recommend you to visit Monte Alban which is 500BC old and the best historical place to visit. That place has a tumultuous history and ruins of its colonial past.

Oaxaca Transportation System:
Let’s start with the odd one for your oaxaca travel guide. There is no Uber so people have to rely upon the rental taxi system. It's a bit costly because their total living depends on this. There is a robust public transport system which tourists can use.

Safe to Travel:
Our oaxaca travel guide research showed that Oaxaca city is safe to travel for all. You can easily hang around late at night. But do follow the safety precautions because crime is in every part of the world.

Go on the streets by leaving expensive items in the hotel. Don’t excessively flash your expensive gadgets too much on the streets. Learn some basic Spanish. Beaches are far away from the city and Oaxaca is situated 1555 metres above sea level. So, charge your lungs before and avoid smoking and drinking alcohol. The city is very clean. When you are all set with the precautionary measures of this diverse city then there will be no bad time for travelling all around the city.

Where to live:
It all depends upon your personal choice and preferences. Some people prefer to stay nearer to nature and some choose to live in the heart of the city. But do visit the Zocalo, the central part of the city for a balming experience.

Our oaxaca travel guide recommends you to taste their best drink named Mezcal. It is a golden colour smoky drink with a mystical taste. There are two main tourist centres named Jalatlaco and Xochimilco. But the best hotels are situated near the neighbourhood of Centro Historico/city centre. Where anyone with a flexible pocket can stay and enjoy their nights.
